Governor Picks Divorcee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk appears headed for the altar with a dazzling Brazilian.

Kirk, Florida's first Republican governor since 1876, took his oath of office Tuesday. He immediately stunned Florida's predominantly Democratic legislature by calling for a special session to revamp the state's proposed new constitution. Critical reaction soon was forthcoming.

Then the handsome, twice-divorced Kirk created a social uproar at his inaugural ball Tuesday night when he appeared with a blonde, German-born socialite from Brazil.

Speculation that Kirk and Miss Erika Mittfeld would wed was confirmed Thursday when her former husband said the wedding date would be Jan. 30.

Carlos Eduardo Dolabella, a Brazilian theatrical producer, said in Rio de Janeiro that he and Miss Mittfeld had been legally separated since 1963. He said she probably had gotten a divorce in the United States.

Kirk left the day after his inauguration for a vacation at an undisclosed spot. Miss Mittfeld, who maintains a Florida home at Palm Beach, also was unreachable and apparently was with the governor.

Before leaving, Kirk, 40, was asked about the possibility of marriage. "I'll let you know if there's any real news," was his reply.

Kirk's aides refused to divulge his whereabouts and had no comment when asked about a possible marriage.

But former in-laws of both Kirk and Miss Mittfeld confirmed that the couple would soon wed.

Underwater Camera Seeks Morrell's Hulk

PORT HURON (AP) — The Coast Guard Cutter Bramble, with a team of underwater specialists aboard, moved into icy Lake Huron today to try and locate the sunken ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell with a television camera.

The Coast Guard said the specialists, from Ocean Systems, Inc., of Arlington, Va., would use a video tape recorder to record what the camera sees.

The Morrell broke in two and sank with a loss of 28 lives Nov. 29 at the peak of a week-long storm.

Ocean Systems Inc. was the prime contractor in the successful search last year for a U.S. hydrogen bomb lost off the coast of Spain. The firm was positive its cameras could find the remains of the Morrell.

Meanwhile, in Cleveland, Ohio, a former skipper of the Morrell testified Thursday the ore carrier went through the same Great Lakes storm in which the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank in December 1958 and came through unscathed.

The testimony was given to a Coast Guard Board of Inquiry by Capt. William L. Hull, of Lake Wales, Fla. Hull has worked for Bethlehem Steel Corp., operator of the Morrell, for 31 years. He was assigned as skipper of the Morrell in July 1964 and remained as skipper through 1965 and part of 1966. He said he was a second mate on the Morrell in 1958.

He said the ship was in good condition the last time he was aboard in August 1966.

Dennis Hale of Ashtabula, Ohio, the sole survivor of the sinking, told the board the Morrell "leaked like a sieve." He said he had seen about 1,000 bad rivets marked with paint on the ore carrier.

The Coast Guard hearing was recessed until Tuesday, when it will resume at Erie, Pa., at 10 a.m. at the Coast Guard station. The board plans to take testimony from Harvey F. Hays of Wesleyville, Pa., a former member of the Morrell's crew.

Manila Buses Crash, 115 Die

MANILA (AP) — More than 115 persons were believed killed today when two buses loaded with Roman Catholic pilgrims hurtled into a ravine on a mountain road south of Manila, rescue experts said.

Military rescue experts who took a helicopter to the crash site said there appeared to be only 15 survivors out of more than 130 passengers thought to have been aboard the buses.

Eyewitnesses told of mangled bodies scattered round the bottom of the gorge where one of the buses, crushed and overturned, pinned at least 17 persons.

The second bus was halted in its plunge down the 300-foot outcrop of rock.

The casualty toll, which may not be confirmed until Saturday, indicated one of the worst road tragedies in history.

The buses were part of a 57-vehicle convoy taking pilgrims to a festival of the Epiphany.

Rescue operations were hampered by the narrowness of the deep ravine. One person at the scene said the gorge was strewn with "bodies of men, women and children."

Snowstorm Blows Into Upper Peninsula

A severe snowstorm, with gusting winds causing much drifting, spread into the Upper Peninsula and the Delta County area today.

Light snow began falling early this morning and the U.S. Weather Bureau issued warnings of "possibly heavy local accumulations" in its forecast for snow today, tonight and Saturday.

Winds are expected to increase to between 15 and 25 miles per hour out of the northeast tonight.

State Police reported snow falling over most of the Upper Peninsula this morning with road conditions getting worse. The Menominee - Marinette area already had nearly an inch of snow on the ground this morning and winds were causing drifting.

The storm swept across wide areas in the west before moving into the northern Plains and Midwest today.

Cold air, with temperatures below zero and in the teens in many areas, added to the discomfort.

Snow fell during the night and early morning from Montana ounts up to four inches appeared likely for the Dakotas. Three inches of snow fell Williston, N.D., and in much of Minnesota.

Cold wave warnings were posted for east of the continental divide, northern and eastern Wyoming during the day and in Colorado today and tonight.

The mercury dropped below zero in parts of Montana and northern Michigan and was near zero in sections of Utah, Idaho, and Wyoming. The 20s and teens prevailed in many Midwest areas, with some lower marks.

and northern Arizona across the central Rockies to the Great Lakes region. Heaviest amounts were in mountain areas.

The drifting snow prompted issuance of hazardous-driving warnings from the Weather Bureau for wide areas from Utah and northern Arizona across the northern and central Rockies to northwestern Oklahoma, Minnesota and Iowa. Heavy amounts were indicated in many parts of the storm belt.

Light snow fell in northern Illinois, southeastern Wisconsin, southern Lake Michigan, southwestern Lower Michigan and northern Indiana. Heavier accumulations were reported in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Wind gusts up to 52 m.p.h. whipped the Rapid City, S.D., area during the night. Snow am-

He succeeds Charles L. Grosebeck, senior inspector of the Warren department.

Andrew C. Teetaert, director of public safety for the city of Grosse Pointe, was installed as first vice president, and Forrest O. Fisher, chief of the Troy department, as second vice president.

J. R. Dethmers Michigan's New Chief Justice

LANSING (AP)—Republicans on the Michigan Supreme Court, wasting no time in wielding the power they gained Jan. 1, elected John R. Dethmers as their chief justice Thursday with the aid of a maverick Democrat.

The 63-year-old Dethmers, a former Michigan attorney general and Republican State Central Committee chairman, replaced Democrat Thomas M. Kavanagh as the state's chief justice.

Dethmers' election vote reportedly was 5-3.

One justice said Kavanagh first was nominated for re-election, but received only three votes while five justices abstained.

Then, the source said, Justice Eugene F. Black, a former Republican attorney general who ran for election to the court with Democratic backing, nominated Republican Dethmers.

The four Republican justices and Black then reportedly elected Dethmers, while the three remaining Democrats reluctantly raised their hands in a show of unanimity.

The Republicans gained one seat on the technically nonpartisan court in the Nov. 8 election when Thomas Brennan beat Democratic Justice Otis M. Smith for a seat on the state's highest bench.

A former Zeeland city attorney and four-term Ottawa County prosecutor, Dethmers was picked as GOP state chairman in 1942 and served three years.

He was elected attorney general in 1944 and was appointed to the Supreme Court by then-Gov. Harry F. Kelly (now a Supreme Court justice himself) in 1946. Dethmers won re-election to the high court in 1953 and 1961.

ARTIST PETER HURD works on a portrait of President Lyndon B. Johnson last year at his studio at San Patricio, N.M. It was delivered by Hurd, who had been commissioned by the Johnsons to paint it, to the White House but it became known that the portrait had been turned down. It was inappropriate for an official portrait, the White House said. (AP Wirephoto)

White House Rejects Hurd's LBJ Portrait

WASHINGTON (AP) — The artist whose commissioned portrait of President Johnson was rejected by the First Family says he had to work with a sleeping subject and turn aside Mrs. Johnson's suggestions on how to paint the work.

And now, says artist Peter Hurd, he's lost interest in a second and smaller portrait he was doing of the President.

But even if the Johnsons don't like the first effort, there apparently is a demand for it from a museum and private collectors.

News of the turndown became public Thursday and was confirmed by Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, who said the President "didn't like it and neither did she (Mrs. Johnson."

The portrait was unveiled for the Johnsons last spring. The Washington Post said Mrs. Johnson told Hurd that a stormy scene which ensued was so unforgettable she didn't expect ever to endure anything so grim again.

Hurd, known for his southwestern landscapes and portraits, said from his New Mexico ranch the fact that he turned down changes suggested by the Johnsons could have been responsible for their rejecting the portrait.

"I just couldn't follow their suggestions and at the same time not lose quality in the painting," Hurd said.

He said Mrs. Johnson wanted it reduced in size from 40 inches by 48 inches to 30 inches by 36 inches.

Murder-Kidnap Charges Filed For Gawne And Banks

DETROIT (AP)—Charges of murder and kidnapping were filed Thursday against two men in connection with the deaths of two Michigan women.

U. S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow filed the charges against Robert L. Gawn, 28, of Ecorse, and William T. Banks, 23, of Little Rock, Ark.

They are charged in Nevada with kidnapping. Gubow said the two probably will be tried in Nevada before facing the charges he filed.

The new charges stem from the fatal shooting of Eileen Alex, 19, of Allen Park, and stragulation of Mrs. Janet Stewart, 22, of Dearborn Heights. Miss Alex' body was found near South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Stewart's was discovered in Dry Ridge, Ky.

36,000 Pupils Lack Teachers In Pay Protest

CHICAGO (AP)— A teachers union went on strike today against Chicago's eight junior colleges—three days ahead of a walkout scheduled against the city's public elementary and high schools.

The Cook County College Teachers Union started picketing and a spokesman for the public junior college system said half to two-thirds of the faculty members were absent today. Some students, as well as teachers, he added, are crossing picket lines.

"All campuses are open," the spokesman told The Associated Press. "They will remain open throughout the day."

The union says 500 of the 684 instructors are members.

As Local 1600, Cook County College Teachers Union, authorized its midnight walkout Thursday, the Chicago Teachers Union voted unanimously to strike every grammar and high school in the city Monday.

The junior college strike affects about 36,000 students.

But a strike by the 13,500-member Chicago Teachers Union would affect more than 570,000 pupils in 550 public schools. The CTU predicted that many of the system's 8,500 nonunion teachers also would strike.

"Always A Chance"

A CTU official said the union's strike committee would meet today, but he added that the Board of Education also had scheduled a meeting. Asked if that meant the dispute might be settled before the Monday strike deadline, he replied, "There's always a chance."

The college teachers approved the walkout after the junior college board offered to levy a quarter-cent of additional taxes for pay boosts.

"They could have offered us 3 cents of tax power," said the union president, Norman G. Swenson. "But to offer us a mere quarter of a cent is an insult and forces us to take strike action."

Ask $3 Million

Instructors asked $3 million cash and benefits; limits of 25 students per class; no more than 12 hours of instruction per week, and a reduction of the school year from 10 to nine months.

The college instructors ask a $1,650 across-the-board increase. Median salary for the college teachers now is $9,000 and salaries range from $6,450 for some instructors to $15,900 for some full professors.

Chancellor Oscar E. Shabat of the Junior College Board said the board offered some $948,000 in cash and benefits in 1967.

The CTU has asked $1,000 across-the-board annual increases; the board has offered $110. The CTU has asked a total of $50 million in salaries and benefits for the coming year; the board's offer totals $5.4 million.

No average figures were available for elementary and secondary school instructors.

Thanom told a special news conference the exact size of the Thai expeditionary force and their time of departure have not been determined. He said an official call for volunteers will be issued soon.

He said the National Security Council and the cabinet have approved the sending of troops.

Wojcik Case Goes To Court

By DAVE ANDREWS

Claire Gordon Slick, of Ypsilanti, a man whom his wife says never has been in trouble, faces the trouble of his 44-year-old life Monday.

He goes to court before Circuit Judge Ernest W. Brown in Menominee for murder in the wake of the most tragic chapter in the often turbulent story of the Wojcik farmland near LaBranche.

Slick will be arraigned with the call of the court calendar Monday morning. The earliest a trial could get underway would be Monday afternoon with selection of a jury. There is always the possibility of a continuance of the case and trial to the April term of court.

Police charge Slick shot and killed Walter (Tony) Mojcik on Kimberly-Clark land near the Wojcik property on the morning of Nov. 18, 1966. The defense is expected to claim that the defendant's actions were self defense.

According to Slick's story told by Det. Sgt. Roy Tanner, Michigan State Police, Ypsilanti, there was an exchange of gunfire that morning. There was also an incident with gunfire at the hunter's campsite and a final "shot from the hip" by Slick at a man in the woods who raised his arms as if to fire a gun.

Claire G. Slick

Based on the testimony of the preliminary hearing, the indication is that Slick did fire his rifle — and in the direction of Wojcik.

Questions Remain

The circumstances are the issue. Many questions need answers.

Did he shoot in self defense in fear of bodily harm to himself or his two sons, ages 15 and 16? Did he know the bullet found its mark, ripping through the lower chest of the man in the woods? Did he see the body and panic, fleeing with the rest of his deer hunting party? If the action was self defense, why wasn't it reported immediately? How did the victim's .22 caliber rifle stock get broken? Was there someone else involved?

And how about the history of the Wojcik land, did the defendent and his hunting party know about it?

Gunfire exchanges with hunters have happened before.

In November, 1962, Mrs. Bertha Wojcik, now 67, the victim's mother, complained to State Police she was assaulted after ordering four hunters off her land. She told police one of the four hunters fired two shots at her and that she then hid behind a tree and returned the fire, causing three of the men to flee.

The fourth, she said, rushed her, knocked her to the ground and took the shells from her gun.

Charges Filed

A year later, charge of felonious assault without intent to due bodily harm were filed against Mrs. Wojcik after another shooting incident. Complainent Clarence Mason Jr. of Menominee told Sheriff's officers she fired on him while he was hunting near her home.

At the time of the incident Mason was not on Wojcik land, officers reported.

Mrs. Wojcik was acquitted of the charge.

When she testified in the preliminary hearing, defense attorney Doyle passed on cross examination. In the trial, however, he probably would have the latitude to probe past incidents.

Aside from the four witnesses who testified in the preliminary hearing — Mrs. Wojcik, Det. Sgt. Hill, Dr. Roland Berry and Det. Sgt. Roy Tanner — the prosecution has not revealed its case or what witnesses might be called.

The defense likewise has remained silent, not asking even a single question during the preliminary hearing of the four witnesses called by the prosecution.

Four Verdicts

Slick, however, husky, blue-eyed with receding brown hair atop a ruddy complexion, showed the strain of events when bound over for trial by Justice Emil Ewald. He was plainly very concerned when he left the courtroom to post $10,000 property bond.

There are four possible verdicts a jury could return: guilty of first degree murder, guilty of second degree murder, guilty of manslaughter and not guilty.

A conviction on first degree murder could bring a life prison sentence.

'Coffee House' Theatre Ready

The Holy Name Drama Club will present its first "coffee house theatre" Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Program includes three short plays, "The Sand Box," a modern American tragedy; "Bertha, the Bartender's Beautiful Baby," a turn-of-the-century melodrama by Charles George, and "The Doctor In Spite of Himself," a 17th century comedy by Moliere.

According to Brother Christopher, drama director, the program is designed as an experimental theatre laboratory. Cast will be composed of underclassmen to give younger students experience with new and different types of drama. Student directors will also be used.

The "coffee house" atmosphere will be created by use of an arena-type arrangement of tables, seating the audience around three sides of the stage. Refreshments will be served between plays.

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Ski Club's annual school for youngsters, put out of business last winter by lack of snow in the area, will hold the first of six consecutive Saturday sessions beginning at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Walter Palmquist, secretary of the club and director of the school, said four one-hour sessions for beginning and intermediate skiiers are scheduled.

Palmquist and Marianne Cowell, club treasurer, will be instructors.

"We've got about 85 kids enrolled at present," Palmquist said, "but we generally pickup 20 or 30 more the first week. The youngest is about 5½ years old and the oldest are 18, high school seniors."

With the snow on the ground and more coming down, Palmquist said hills at the Ski Club along the Days River are in pretty good condition. Skiing last night was real good, he said.

Youngsters enrolling in the ski classes must have their own equipment and be members of the ski club, Palmquist said. Membership is open to anyone at rates of $10 for family, $6 for single adult and $3 for children.

"The beginners will be taught basic elements of skiing from equipment through stem turns," Palmquist said. "Our intermediate school reviews the basics and goes through stem christies. Advanced skiiers go through to parallel skiing."

Kids Are Told No Hockey On Smaller Rinks

Hockey is not permitted on the Ogden and Babe Ruth skating rinks and young people living in the area are reminded that neighborhood rinks are intended for children 12 years of age and under.

City crews have been too busy with other activities too flood the smaller rinks in the community and additional workers have not been available, it was announced today by Paul Vardigan, acting city recreation director.

Both the neighborhood rinks will be flooded after the snow has been removed by the grader and sweeper.

Scoutmasters Plan Air Force Survival Outing

Scoutmasters from the Upper Peninsula will receive the "full treatment" this weekend as they undergo an intensive Air Force winter survival training for fighter crews at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base survival area.

The course will begin with an orientation of equipment and emergency shelters. Following this, the scoutmasters will snowshoe to the survival area where they will construct the shelters which will be their home for the night. Shelters will be equipped with "inner spring mattresses" selected from the nearby evergreen trees.

Air Force survival rations will be the noon menu. A more standard fare will be offered for supper. This diet will be accented by any rabbit unfortunate enough to be caught in the survival snares.

All women are welcome and coffee will be served.

Mrs. Neumeier, a student of government, will speak Monday on reapportionment and how it will affect home rule in Delta County. There will be a question period.

Troubles Hit Michigan Tech

HOUGHTON—"So you think you have troubles—wait until I tell you mine."

That choice statement came from Michigan Tech basketball coach Verdie Cox Thursday morning as he boarded the MTU bus headed for Minnesota and a pair of conference games.

"Everything started out great this week as the boys returned to campus from vacation, and practice sessions were peppy and sharp," Cox added. "Then the problems began.

"First I learned that three varsity members are lost to us for the remainder of the season due to scholastic ineligibility. Then came another tough blow.

"On Tuesday, captain Frank Sahlman, a forward, freshman center Bob Piesko and junior center Ralph Carson left Houghton by train, headed for Milwaukee to take physical exams for the U. S. Army draft. That means they missed three days of practice.

"We will, however, have them with us at Mankato and Winona, I hope. All three are scheduled to fly from Milwaukee to Minneapolis to meet us. I hope they get there OK."

Some coaches have all the luck.

Tech opens the 1966-67 NIC race Friday night at Mankato State College and then moves to Winona State for a Saturday afternoon go.

Cox took nine players on the bus, not counting his wandering three, plus the Michigan Tech bowling team. Tech's pin squad will compete in a dual meet against Mankato State on Friday. The meet will include singles, doubles and team events.

Alsten, Teamster Union Business Agent For 23 Years, Is Retiring

By CLINT DUNATHAN

"I know what I'm retiring from—but not what I'm retiring to," said Arnold Alsten, for 23 years the business agent of Teamster Union Local 328 and one of the most influential labor leaders in Northern Michigan.

His retirement is a sort of transitional thing, for he was still occupying his office in the Teamsters headquarters at Escanaba this week and he expects to be around on call for a time if he is needed.

One thing is certain, he agreed, he knows that he will be retiring to a situation that will have far less tension, stress and strain than has been his daily work diet as secretary - treasurer and business agent for the Teamsters.

Presented With Gifts

Surprising only to a few, perhaps, is the wide-spread good wishes and congratulations that came to him on the eve of his retirement. A group of employers representing some of the largest industries in the Upper Peninsula hosted him at a dinner at the House of Ludington last week. It was a surprise affair that pleased Alsten greatly because it revealed just how far union - management understanding has progressed.

He was presented with a gift by the employers, and from the people at Teamsters headquarters and from his fellow workers there came other gifts. "I now have a camera, golf clubs and bag—and I'm equipped for the hobbies I've never had time to take up in the past," Alsten smiled.

Alsten was born in Escanaba 57 years ago, on May 8, 1909, and time has rested a light hand on his blond head, for his hair is all his own and his blue eyes have a direct authority that are a part of his persuasion at the bargaining table.

"I finished the ninth grade in the Escanaba High School and quit to go to work. I was one of the shyest kids you ever saw—so shy the teacher allowed me to write out my reports rather than have me get up and recite them. I'll always remember that teacher — Mrs. Semer."

Read And Studied

Perhaps the lack of a formal education helped shape Arnold Alsten's ambition. His career was to rub him up against some bright men in law, business, management, and government. He read and studied, so that he knew what he was talking about. He learned to say what he had to say with sufficient persuasion to win the respect (and sometimes even the liking) of the men he dealt with.

His office in the Teamsters headquarters building in Escanaba has a wall lined with books on labor laws and labor practices, a subject in which he is expert. He converses fluently and no trace of boyhood shyness is now apparent.

The high school "drop out" went to work and one of his first jobs was in the local bakeries—Thompsons and Hoyler & Bauer—where he learned the baking trade. Later he delivered bakery products, and then spent a year downstate finding additional workingman experience in employment with Michigan Bell and Fisher Body Co.

In Dray Business

"I came back to Escanaba in the winter of 1929, just before Christmas. My dad, Albert, was in the dray business that he had started in 1917, and now he was not feeling well and needed some help."

Because of his father's failing health he took over the operation of the business in 1931. The elder Alsten died in January, 1932.

Those were the "depth of the depression" years. Banks failed and bread lines formed. Business folded up like paper fans and WPA projects took up the employment slack. The Alsten dray business was one of the casualties and young Arnold went to work as a driver for Grover Lewis at the L. & L. Trucking Service in Escanaba in July, 1935.

His first experience with the Teamsters Union was in October, 1938, while he was driving for L. & L. Teamsters Local 328 had its inception in this area at that time, although a charter had been issued to the Menominee-Marinette area two years earlier.

Many Changes

Alsten was a member and an officer of the Local when it was taken into trusteeship in 1943, and he was appointed by the International to handle its affairs. Local autonomy was restored after two years of growth and success. Officers have since been elected under the International constitution.

Alsten has been secretary-treasurer and business agent since 1943 — recognition for what he calls his "active participation and dedicated interest in promoting the Union."

One of the symbols of growth and influence of the Teamsters is its present headquarters at 900 1st Ave. S., which was once the Knight of Columbus Hall and was extensively remodeled by the Teamsters.

While the title of Alsten's office in the Teamsters is virtually unchanged through the years, the Union itself has experienced a major transition in the diversity of the working people it represents. The withdrawal of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO gave the Teamsters autonomy and responsibility—and removed the onus of forever respecting somebody else's picket lines.

'Sincerity' First

Teamsters and employers have been getting along much better since they withdrew from the AFL-CIO and the relationship with the employers is better than it has ever been, Alsten reported.

What is the primary element in negotiating labor-management agreements?

"Sincerity," Alsten replied. "But it is most difficult to achieve because employers feel the union has everything to gain and nothing to lose. Actually, employers have to understand that their men are in the union because they want and need security—and not to gamble it away."

"Employers must learn that they can deal with and live with the union," Alsten added. "Employers must understand that their employes have the right under law to deal with the union of their choice."

Membership Diverse

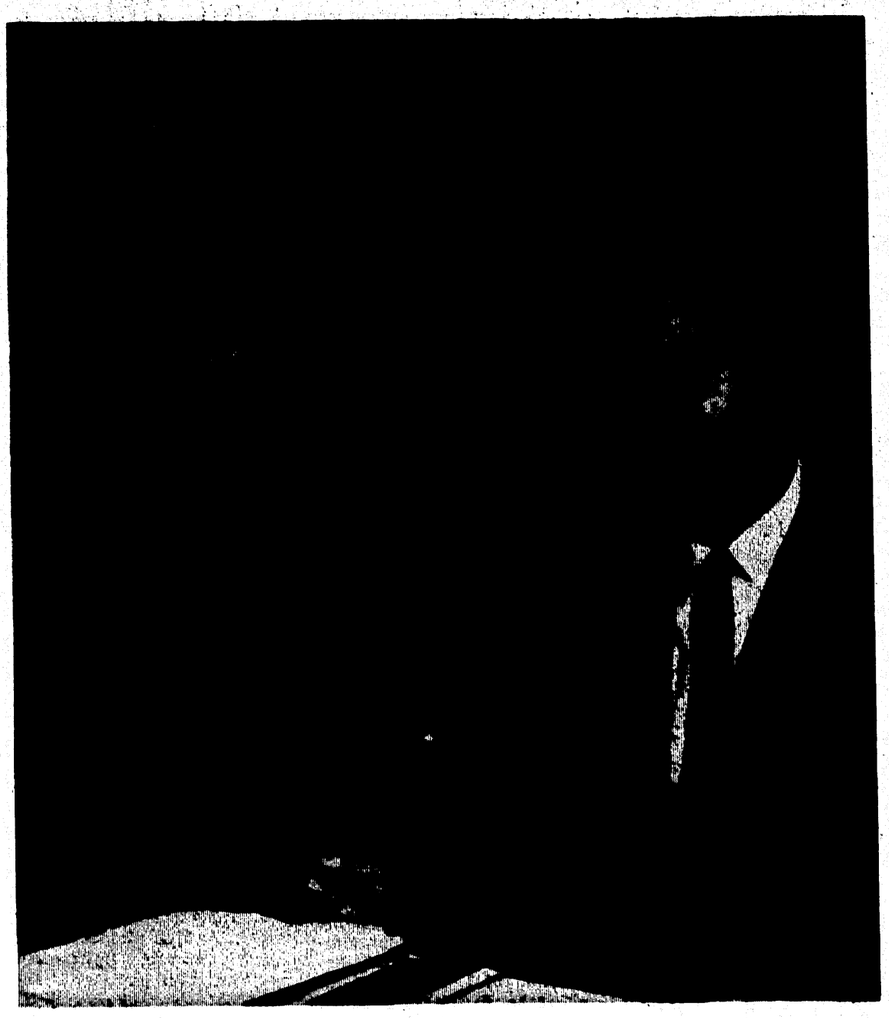
"The pathway between union and management hasn't changed much through the years. The employers who have stayed out this long find it even more difficult to come to terms this ficult to come to terms with the realization that employers and the union can and do build together successfully."

The Teamsters have grown and "built" along with the expanding economy of the region. Teamsters Union Local 328 has increased by approximately 2,000 members in the past 15 years.

Among the recent member groups are men in public employment, whose choice of unions to represent them is provided for by the Michigan Legislature. The Escanaba Police—patrolmen and sergeants—have voted to be represented by the Teamsters; and the Teamsters now represent the employes of the Delta County Road Commission.

Alsten, with golf clubs and movie camera, will no doubt pursue his recreation on vacation trips to visit members of the family in California, including one recent (and the first) great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Alsten, who reside at 1601 17th Ave. S., will continue to make their home in Escanaba, but they expect to visit their daughters Shirley (Mrs. James Smith) and family in Sylmar, Calif., and Marilyn (Mrs. Archie Terrian) and family in San Diego.



TEAMSTERS UNION LOCAL 328 must soon get along without two of its longtime employes in the headquarters office at Escanaba. Retiring after 20 years as cashier and bookkeeper is Mrs. Karl Kessler of 917 6th Ave. S. Arnold Alsten, for 23 years the business agent for the Teamsters, is also retiring—but he will be available on call when his services are required. (Daily Press Photo)

Mrs. Kessler, Teamster Cashier 20 Years, Retires

Another Teamsters Union Local 328 retiree is Mrs. Karl Kessler of 917 6th Ave. S., who has served the Union as cashier and bookkeeper for nearly 20 years.

She began work with the Teamsters in September, 1947, when the office was on the second floor of the Legion building and she was the only other person in the office besides Alsten.

Her retirement ends 40 years of employment that began in Chicago, where she was born and raised. She was employed there with the General Electric Co. for 10 years and with the C. L. Willey Co. for seven years.

With the beginning of World War II she worked for Merritt, Chapman & Scott in Escanaba; later was employed with the Office of Price Administration and in Rent Control here.

Mr. Kessler retired five years ago from the Birds Eye Veneer Co. wher he was in charge of the slicing department. The Kesslers will continue to make their home in Escanaba, with vacation trips to visit members of the family in Arizona, Florida and Lower Michigan.

Yanks Down 2 More MIG21s

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Air Force pilots downed two more Communist MIG21s over North Vietnam today, running their score of MIG kills for the week to nine, the Air Force announced.

The week's effort wiped out about half of North Vietnam's estimated fleet of 15 to 20 of the late-model MIG21s, the fastest Communist plane in Asia, which can travel 1,500 miles an hour.

U.S. officials said no American planes were lost in the duels with MIGs, but they said one Air Force Phantom jet went down today 100 miles west of Hanoi from "unknown causes." Both fliers aboard the reconnaissance Phantom were rescued within nine minutes of each other, a U.S. spokesman said.

The two MIGs were brought down 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, the same area where Air Force pilots downed seven MIG21s last Monday and an area which U.S. spokesman called "MIG Valley."

Potato And Beef Accents

MSU Ag Research Shifts

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University is shifting some of its agricultural research to concentrate on Michigan strong points indicated by MSU's "Project '80," a look ahead to rural potential in 1980.

The two-year study, completed last year, indicated good prospects for the potato, beef raising, poultry and sod industries, among others.

Dr. Sylvan H. Wittwer, director of MSU's agricultural research program, said the study prompted several changes in the school's 350 research projects for 1967.

A new agricultural experiment station has been established near McBride in Montcalm County, he noted, to improve production of crops for processing, especially potatoes.

Researchers hope to raise yields from the present average of 600 bushels an acre to 2,000.

"The establishment of the new research location in the heart of western Michigan's prime potato producing area is the result of several studies which indicate a great potential for the industry in the state," Wittwer said.

MSU's Lake City experiment station, formerly the center for many potato projects, will be used mainly to study the feeding, breeding and management of beef cattle, forages and pasture.

Michigan produces only about one-third of the beef consumed in the state and only about one-third of the feeder calves that are fed out in the state, Wittwer said.

"Furthermore, we have a surplus of feed grain which is shipped out of the state that could be used for expanded beef production," he added.

Another shift includes expansion of turkey research at MSU's station near Chatham in the Upper Peninsula.

Wittwer said scientists hope the area's cooler temperatures will allow production of turkey eggs at times when turkeys do not lay eggs in the south.

Emphasis also will be given in 1967 to food science, natural resources, soft white winter wheat and the sod industry, he said.

Christmas Tree Violation Cited, Escanaban Fined

He appeared before Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone.

U.S. Dept. of Agriculture officials, who made the arrest, said Gardner had a Christmas tree lot in Escanaba.

Liu Is Target Of Mao Purge

By The Associated Press

A dour Communist theoretician is the No. 1 target now of the apparently dominant faction in Red China in an intense struggle for power.

"He is such a dull dog to have such influence," a Western diplomat once said of the chairman of Communist China's government, fragile silver-haired Liu Shao-chi.

Before the power struggle began in earnest last August, Liu Shao-chi was widely regarded as the heir apparent to the aging chairman of the Communist party and father of China's Red revolution, Mao Tse-tung.

Today, Liu appears to have been pushed down the ladder of the hierarchy, below a number of relative newcomers.

Although Liu is under heavy attack from the partisans of the faction headed by Defense Minister Lin Piao, who evidently has had Mao's blessing, the struggle is not yet over. Liu is believed still to have resources of power, particularly among the party-controlled labor unions.

Reno, Nev., was named for Jesse Reno, a hero of the Civil War.

Georgia Governor Issue May Still Go Back To Vote

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Georgia Legislature convenes in three days, but there still is doubt whether the lawmakers can decide who will be the state's next governor — Democrat Lester G. Maddox or Republican Howard Callaway.

The outcome of the gubernatorial contest in the Nov. 8 general election has been steeped in uncertainty since the initial Democratic primary last September.

Voters made three trips to the polls. The campaigning was marked by political upset, maneuvers by disgruntled supporters of a defeated candidate, and the legal tangle that resulted over the final vote.

Uncertainty remains even though the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld a state constitution provision which allows the General Assembly to elect a governor if the voters fail to make a choice.

Last-ditch legal action is pending before the State Supreme Court in yet another effort to give the voters another chance at settling the issue in either a runoff or a special election.

Curbs On Medicaid

The second phase of Medicaid went into effect in Michigan on Jan. 1 in a curtailed form because of an order by Governor Romney.

Medicaid is a sister welfare program to Medicare.

Medicare is a program of medical care for the aged (65 and over) regardless of their income. It is all paid for (except an optional sharing doctor insurance feature) by the federal government.

Medicaid is to provide medical care for the poor of any age. It is administered by the state and financed by the state and federal governments. (Under federal law, all states must bring their medical care programs for the poor under Medicaid and by 1975 state medical assistance programs must be comprehensive and available to all medically needy individuals and families. Medically needy means less than $3,540 annual income for a family of four.)

★ ★ ★

The 1966 Legislature voted in Medicaid for Michigan in three phases and appropriated $21 million for its first year's operation.

The first phase starting Oct. 1 provided hospital and nursing home care for the poor.

Governor Romney restricted the benefits in Phase 2 starting on Jan. 1. It was to have provided doctor and drug services. Romney extended these to 225,000 people now on public assistance rolls—the blind, disabled, and aged not covered by Social Security and families receiving Aid to Dependent Children. But he held back the Phase 2 benefits from an estimated 462,000 other potential beneficiaries who would have qualified as medically indigent, but who are not poor enough to receive welfare aid.

When UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock protested the curtailment Romney said "I didn't single out one group; the program singled itself out. It didn't have enough money to cover its costs. By law vouchers can't be sent out if money to cover them isn't sufficient."

★ ★ ★

State Budget Director Glenn S. Allen asked members of the Senate Appropriations Committee if they'd be willing to approve a $42 million supplementary appropriation to cover the Medicaid deficit and they said the state had better try to live within the $21 million appropriation.

Even with the curtailed program, said Allen, Medicaid would cost $39 million, or $18 million over the Legislature's appropriation. "We couldn't stop the part of the program already started," said Allen "and it will cost $39 million."

The third phase of Medicaid scheduled to start next April 1 would offer dental and other services to Medicaid beneficiaries. The implementation of this phase is uncertain because of the cutbacks and lack of financing.

Leonard Woodcock speaks for humanity when he suggests that the poor need these services. Governor Romney speaks for integrity in government when he says that the Legislature, if it is going to take care of the poor, must provide the means for doing so, not just vote the benefits and hope that the money to pay for them will be found somewhere.

The end is indicated. There will be implementation of all the phases of Medicaid eventually. But it will be more orderly and more related to ability to pay under the Romney concept. His way is more helpful to the poor than that of the free spenders who don't bother to provide the taxes to finance the spending. They have voted this huge step into welfarism without presenting the citizenry a realistic tax bill for its costs, although they must inevitably pay for it.

The public is now awake to the "sleeper" bill on Medicaid and its dimensions of obligation must concern them as they have Governor Romney. With a huge deficit already built into the Michigan budget for 1967 by previous appropriations, Romney isn't going to welcome other big deficits. If the Legislature is going to spend, it is going to tax, or face his veto.

Improvement-Later

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — At the governors' conference in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., newsmen asked Gov. George Wallace of Alabama what he thought of the still unsettled governors' race in neighboring Georgia.

"Sure got a lot of governors ever there, haven't they?"

Wallace said that at the Georgia-Auburn football game this fall, he saw a sign on a student bus from Georgia which suggested Georgians might like still another candidate in the race.

The sign read:

"Lurleen (Mrs. Wallace, newly elected governor), do you have a sister?"

★ ★ ★

A reception at the White Sulphur Springs conference drew some of the brightest stars in the governors' gallery.

Not least was that budding GOP presidential prospect, Gov. George Romney of Michigan. As he moved into the crowed reception ballroom with his charming wife, Lenore, he smiled broadly, raised up a bit on his toes, looked around and asked:

"Let's see now, who should I try to catch?"

At his elbow was George Hinman, aide to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and the able Republican national committeeman from New York. Hinman grinned just as broadly and answered Romney firmly:

"Everybody, George!"

Defeated as a candidate for U. S. senator in November, Gov. Frank Morrison of Nebraska, two-term Democrat, turned up at the "interim" governors' conference for his last hurrah.

It was marred ever so slightly. For three days he strode around the corridors wearing a badge which pronounced him the governor of "Nebraska."

Federal-State relations hardly constitute one of the more thrilling topics on Washington's agenda, but they do come up, nevertheless, for almost constant attention.

An observer in the capital said recently that President Johnson is among those who take the subject seriously. Added he:

"The President very much wants to see a major improvement in federal-state relations —after he's gone!"

Any employe of the U. S. Information Agency (USIA) serving overseas has to speak the language of whatever country he's assigned to.

The fortunate mono-linguists draw countries like India where English is an acceptable alternative to native dialects. Others draw places like Denmark and require four months of intensive training at USIA's Washington language school.

Sometimes four months isn't quite enough, as one USIA staffer assigned to Copenhagen found out.

Shortly after his arrival, he got into a taxi and proudly announced his destination in Danish. He was rewarded by a downright hostile glare from the cabbie.

"I'm sorry I don't speak Danish very well," the USIA man stammered. "I've just arrived from America."

"You're an American?"boomed the cabbie. "That's different. I thought you were a drunken Dane!"

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $8,200 loan to Hancock, Mich., has been announced here by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Hancock's loan is for planning $250,955 worth of sewer, water and street improvements.

'Downtown' Set Petula Off

By MARY CAMPBELL

PETULA CLARK, veteran since childhood of British films and recordings, now in her early 30's, says that her record, "Downtown," had those magical "right" ingredients for her. "After years of trying different things you eventually come to the thing that is right."

"Downtown" also was the record which brought Petula Clark to prominent notice in the United States. And it launched its composer, Tony Hatch, into lots of writing, arranging and producing of Petula Clark records — "I Know A Place," "My Love," "Sign of the Times," "Who Am I?" and a new one climbing the charts, "Color My World".

"Tony has an enormous rhythmic sense," Miss Clark says. "and very muscled arrangements. I find his writing makes me bend my voice and sing in a different way. I don't know why, maybe it's the only way I can keep up with his orchestra. It's them or me."

But the first meeting between Miss Clark and Hatch was not auspicious. He had been hired by her record company and one of his first assignments was to direct her recording session in London.

★ ★ ★

"I HAD BEEN used to working with somebody else whom I adored," Miss Clark recalls. "Tony was about 22 and probably scared and I found out later he had been a fan of mine for years. But he put on a very bumptuous sort of attitude and started ordering everybody around. I thought 'Who does he think he is?' The first session we had together was pretty explosive, but we eventually sorted it out.

"He used to sit in the cabin during my recordings. One day he asked if he could do an arrangement for me. I'd never heard his work, but I said, 'Why not?'

"He did an arrangement and it sort of picked me up and threw me across the room, it was so marvelous.

"Then, when he wrote 'Downtown,' he played the music over to me first because he was a bit doubtful about it. I told him if he could go away and write lyrics up to the standard of the music I thought it would be a great song — even if it wasn't a hit. We didn't realize we were recording sort of a monster."

★ ★ ★

.."DOWNTOWN" was certified as a million seller in the United States March 1, 1965. Over the world it has sold six million copies. Miss Clark recorded it in English, French, German and Italian.

Now, before a recording session, Hatch does the arrangement and rehearses the orchestra. Somebody else conducts during the take. "He goes in the cabin and does the sound balancing. He will mix it in the end, as well. There are no technical tricks in our records at all. If the chemical reaction doesn't come off in the studio, then we haven't got a record. We never overdub anything. We only sometimes add a tiny bit of echo; Tony doesn't like any kind of frills."

This fall, Miss Clark, her husband, Frenchman Claud Wolff, and their daughters, ages 4 and 3, came to the United States from France for several months. During her first engagement, at New York's Copacabana, Warner Brothers recorded four performances. "We may put out an album, 'Live at the Copa,' which might be interesting because I do lots of things which I wouldn't normally record." One of them is a song which explains that the petite singer's name is pronounced Pet-YEWla, but most friends call her Pet.

Petula Clark

★ ★ ★

MISS CLARK is appearing on several TV shows this winter, singing in Washington, Las Vegas and Reno, and giving concerts in colleges from the latter part of March through April.

The girls can travel easily this year, the singer says, but next year may not be so easy, with one of them starting school. An international school in Geneva, with branches in New York and Los Angeles, sounds like a good solution — "at least in theory."

Miss Clark says one of the daughters is understanding and sensitive and the other is explosive and a born character. "It would be a pity to knock it all out of her, but we have to watch her.

"But actually they're not beastly children at all. They have good hearts and would never dream of hurting anybody. I would hate them to be spoiled."

Opening lead—♣ K

Only a great expert could manage this hand to get himself set at four spades. West opened the king of clubs and continued with the queen. East overtook with the ace and cashed the jack. West discarded the nine of diamonds and East led the jack.

The ordinary South player would waste no time running off the rest of the tricks. He would win the diamond, play the ace and king of trumps, cash the other high diamond, ruff his low diamond with dummy's last trump, return to his hand with the ace of hearts and show his hand.

Expert South didn't take this simple view of the hand. He had noted that East had shown up with five clubs and West with only two. South decided that the chances were that East would hold one spade and West three. In that case the odds would be three to one that West would hold the queen.

In ordinary circumstances South could guard against the singleton queeen in the East hand by playing his king of spades and continuing with the jack for a finesse.

The trouble with this line of play would be that all North's three trumps would be used up that way and that South would be left with a losing diamond. Therefore South decided to lead his jack of spades and let it ride for an immediate finesse. This would give him a chance to have his cake and eat it also.

South tried this play and East made his singleton queen of trumps.

TREES

Living in the State of Palm Trees and Sunshine (Florida) the picture and write-up in the Dec. 27 issue of the Escanaba Daily Press of Mrs. Rhoda Anderson of South Ford River decorating her palm tree for a Christmas tree caught my interest.

In answer to her question of "Why not?" I would like to answer with this. In pictures illustrating the manger scene of Christ's birth one particular specie of tree is always shown . . . a palm tree; so truly Mrs. Anderson the first Christmas tree was a palm tree.

I regard Escanaba as my hometown even though its been 10 years since I graduated from Esky Senior High School (1956). I still find news events concerning Escanaba interesting and when my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everette W. Dahlvik came to Florida to be with my family during the birth of our third child their subscription to the Daily Press was read and enjoyed by all of us.

Thanks to the Escanaba Daily Press staff for reporting this unusual event, especially happening in the North, (in Florida outside Christmas lights are placed on palms, but the answer to the "Why not?" of Mrs. Anderson may make interesting reading to some of your subscribers. When more commercialization of Christmas seems ever apparent any act, however small or seemingly unsignificant, should be commended.

Ann Landers

Good Wife Listens To Oldie And Laughs

Dear Ann Landers: On a visit to my hometown I learned that my oldest brother's son is a homosexual. I discussed this with another brother and he said it was "unavoidable"—that homosexuality is an inherited trait. This made sense to me because two of my sisters have sons who are extremely effeminate.

I know very little about the subject, but I have read magazine articles which said homosexuality is not inherited — that it is the result of environment.

My husband and I have been married only a few months and we want a family, but the thought that I might have a homosexual child frightens me to death. Please tell me if homosexuality is inherited. —IMMOBILIZED

Dear Immobilized: Most experts say homosexuality is not inherited—that it is a psychological disorder and that the roots of the difficulty go back to early childhood. The youngster's feelings about one or both parents is usually the key factor.

To deny yourself a family because you are afraid of producing a homosexual child is poor thinking.

P.S. About those "effeminate" nephews—don't jump to conclusions. They may be perfectly normal. A high-pitched voice, fluttery hands and traits often associated with girlishness are not proof of homosexuality. Outward appearances can be woefully misleading.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: When a person starts to tell a joke and says, "If I've told you this before, please stop me"—should I be honest and stop him or should I allow him to go ahead and repeat a long, drawn-out yarn that wasn't very funny the first time?

Please settle this once and for all.—HEARD IT ALL BEFORE

Dear Heard: If you are only one in the audience, it is best to say, "Yes, you told me that one." If others are present, allow him to repeat, which is what he really wants to do. (This advice does not apply if "the person" is your husband. A good wife should listen to the same joke 500 times if necessary—and laugh every time.)

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you will print this letter because my husband reads your column. He is one of those people who knows everything. If I try to tell him something, he says I am making a mountain out of a molehill.

How should a wife feel when her husband takes her out on the dance floor and after a few turns pushes her into another man's arms and grabs his partner?

I always end up with a character who is two heads shorter than I am—or a half-smashed, left-footed clunk. I feel sorry for some of the men I get pushed on, because I'm sure they would rather dance with the women they had before my husband horned in and threw me at them.

I have told my husband a hundred times if he wants to dance with another woman, it is O.K. with me, but please ask her before the music starts and spare me the pot luck. Am I unreasonable?—MOUNTAIN OR MOLEHILL

Dear M or M: A husband shows no regard for his wife's feelings when he throws her at another man and grabs a new partner. I hope you'll tell him so. Or better still—show him this column and let me tell him.

February Call For Draft Low

LANSING (AP)—State Selective Service Director Arthur Holmes said today Michigan local boards will order 529 men for induction into the Army during February, the lowest call assigned to Michigan since the early months of 1965.

Holmes said local boards also will be asked to deliver approximately 400 former Class 1-Y registrants who now qualify under new lower mental standards established by the Department of Defense.

Special calls will be issued for 1-Y registrants starting in February and continuing through September, Holmes said.

Under aptitude test standards, registrants will be found mentally qualified for induction if they are high school graduates and score at least 10 on the Armed Forces Qualification Test.

A breakdown of February 1-A call by Upper Peninsula counties follows:

Alger 0; Baraga 0; Chippewa 4; Delta 0; Dickinson 0; Gogebic 1; Houghton 3; Iron 3; Keweenaw 1; Luce 0; Mackinac 1; Marquette 0; Menominee 1; Ontonagon 0; and Schoolcraft 2.

Warrant Issued For Draft Dodger Now In Canada

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A Hartford man who was featured in a recent magazine article on Americans who flee to Canada to avoid the draft has been charged by a federal grand jury with draft evasion.

Gregory R. Garach, 23, was pictured with another young American in Life magazine's Dec. 9 edition. The article said they were among 400 to 1,000 Americans now in Canada to avoid compulsory military service.

The federal grand jury said that Garach had been using the name Gregory Roman in Canada. He was described by the magazine as a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Life quoted Garach as saying, "I don't dig patriotism or nationalism. It leads to war. It's all an accident of birth who you fight for. If I was born in Russia I wouldn't fight for the Russians either."

A bench warrant was issued for his arrest and his bond was set at $5,000. However, the warrant cannot be served in Canada, which has no draft laws and no extradition for draft offenses.

Carries Bullet In Shoulder

ARTHUR, N.D. (AP) — David Hodgson is the only pupil in Arthur High School with a bullet in his shoulder. The 15-year-old sophomore shot himself when he tripped while hunting recently and the slug lodged near his shoulder blade.

His physician decided against removing the slug for the present, saying an operation might prove more injurious.

STONE COTTAGE: This is what the English stone cottage of the Colonial era looked like, but this modern three-bedroom version has interior comforts designed into it to meet the needs and demands of present day families.

Charm In English Cottage

By ANDY LANG

In the early days of America, when native stone was easily available, especially in New England, the landscape soon became dotted with delightful stone cottages. Because many of these settlers were English, the cottages had a decided flavor of the English countryside.

A good portion of the design in those days was left to the builders, who often were the heads of the households which were to occupy the houses on their completion. As a result, structures were modest in size at the start, with extra rooms and little chunks added later as demands dictated. Surprisingly, the results were quaint and charming, actually giving the homes an architectural identification.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern has turned out an authentic 1½-story English stone cottage design for House of the Week. Its exterior materials are stone and stone veneer, with rough slate on the roofs. It has two side porches for those who insist on outdoor living features, yet can be dispensed with by families who do not need them or might not have sufficient available land. And it has a completely modern interior to take care of the demands of present-day living.

The front entrance is very simple, a wood-trimmed recessed opening. Inside, there is a large foyer with stone walls as well as floors. It leads directly to the kitchen—straight ahead; the living room—to the left; and the family room—to the right. There is a fireplace in the living room, another in the family room. The living room and the dining room are in an L-shaped arrangement, with the dining room just off the kitchen, which in turn is just off a laundry room with a mud closet.

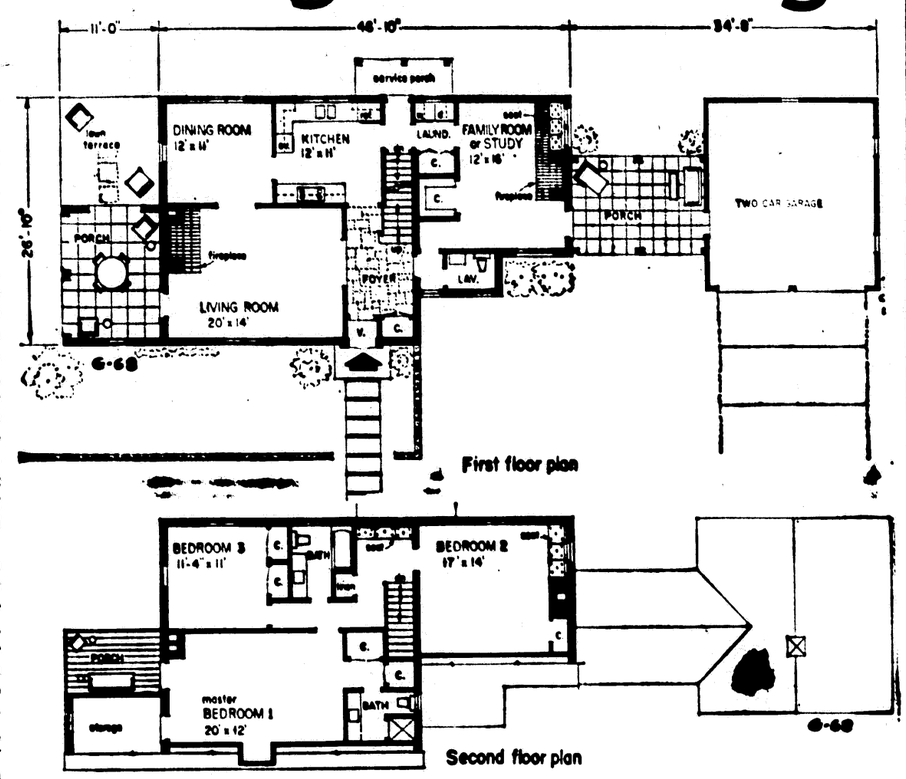
Both the kitchen and laundry room are immediately accessible to a rear service porch, which also is only a few steps from the stairway to the basement. The family room has a long window seat next to the fireplace, adding to the general overall air of informality in this area. A huge closet in this room can be used either for clothes or play equipment or both. There is an entrance to a covered side porch from the family room, just as there is one from the living room to the porch on the other side of the house. A downstairs lavatory is located off both the foyer and the family room.

Upstairs are three bedrooms, two of them extra sizeable. The master bedroom, for instance, is 20' long, with its own bath, two closets, an entrance to a porch and a large storage area. There are window seats in one of the other bedrooms, as well as window seats at the head of the stairway. Another bathroom and a linen closet are in the hall. All three bedrooms has cross- ventilation.

An interesting design and construction feature of this house is a solid stone wall running through the house from the front to the rear and visible in the foyer, family room and kitchen.

The family which has no need for the two side porches will have a basic house of 46' 10" by 26' 10", with 1129 square feet of habitable area on the first floor and square feet on the bedroom floor. The porch on the left side of the house adds 11' to the width, the one at the right 15'. The two-car garage is 19' 8". These statistics are given to demonstrate the many variations in size that are possible in the construction of the house, depending on the needs of the family, the available land and the size of the budget.

Small, medium - sized or large this house is a delight to the eye and, on the basis of the architect's floor plans, a comfortable place in which to live.



FLOOR PLANS: Excellent traffic pattern shown here is in line with modern trends, with foyer serving as the hub. Two side porches are expendable for families without sufficient lot frontage. All upstairs bedrooms have cross-ventilation.

UNUSUAL FOYER: Stone wall in this foyer, with partial glimpse of the family room, extends throughout the house from the front to the rear.

G-68 STATISTICS

Design G-68 is a 1½-story stone cottage, with a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, laundry, lavatory and large foyer on the first floor, totaling 1129 square feet of living space. The three bedrooms on the upper floor add 990 square feet to the total. The porches and two-car garage are not included in these statistics. The basic house is 46' 10' by 26' 10". With the two side porches and the garage, the dimensions are 92' 6".

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG

Question: I keep reading all the time about people having trouble, after the heat is turned on, with sweating windows and walls. Well, we seem to have the opposite trouble — and it has happened only since the start of the winter. Everything seems to be extra dry. We get static electricity every time we touch something and sometimes when we touch each other.

We also have noticed that the joints in one of the chairs seem to be getting loose. My husband says it is because of lack of humidity but admits he doesn't know what to do other than buying a humidifier. Can you tell us what is wrong? Is it because we have gas heat?

Answer: No, the gas heat is not the culprit. However, if you have a warm-air system, this may be contributing to the trouble if your furnace does not have a humidifier or if it has one and you have failed to see that it is turned on and operating properly. The supposition is more likely to be true if this condition occurs even when there is average or high humidity outdoors. While many home humidifiers are expensive, the price range is very wide, and you should be able to get a reasonable priced one that will at least partly alleviate the condition.

Meanwhile, you might try keeping a lot of indoor plants around the house, using the type that thrive even when the soil around the roots are well-watered. There is a lot more to a too-dry home than static electricity and loose furniture joints. Studies show that a lack of sufficient humidity can cause the nose and throat to feel dry and parched and make a person more susceptible to respiratory ailments. An investment in a humidifier, therefore, may be well worthwhile.

Secretary of State James Hare estimated Michigan now has nearly 90,000 notaries public to validate documents. Appointments are made by the governor for four-year terms.

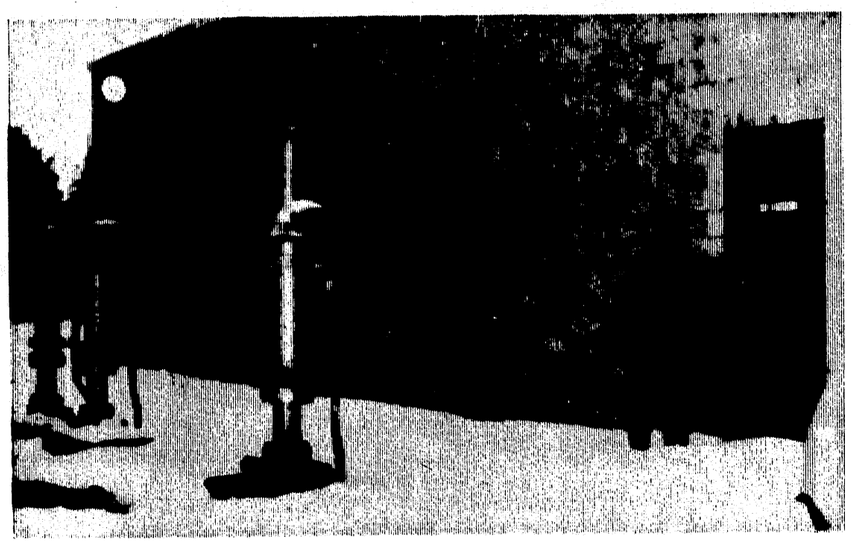
MANISTIQUE



Pike Spearing Season Open

Ice on waters of Conservation district four are safe, ranging from 6 to 10 inches with 3 to 10 inches of snow. Shores of the Great Lakes have begun to pile up huge icebergs, making photography appealing to fishermen, the Conservation Department notes. Fishermen are urged to check ice, however, before going on to the "icy wonders."

Good catches of perch are being made on Munuscong Bay, Indian Lake, Les Cheneaux channels (with wigglers as best bait), Hulbert Lake and Big Manistique Lake.

Fair to good walleye catches are being made at Indian Lake and Big Manistique Lake. Good possibilities should be Whitefish Lake and Caribou Lake.

The pike spearing season has opened on all inland water in the district except trout waters and continues open through February. Good possibilities might be Les Cheneaux, which has 6-8 inches of ice, Mud Lake, Blind Sucker Flooding, South Manistique Lake, East, Brevoort and Milakokia lakes, Munuscong and Brimley bays, Caribou Lake, Snyder, Wolf and Indian lakes.

A few reports have been received of "muskies" being taken in Mud Lake of Luce County.

All high school students from grades 8 through 13 are eligible to display work and entries are invited from students in Northern Michigan from Sault Ste. Marie to a line including Munising, Manistique, Petoskey and Rogers City.

Germfask

Wedding

On Dec. 23 Lloyd Quale of Germfask took Mrs. Violet Goudreau of St. Ignace for his bride in a wedding ceremony performed by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Wilbur M. Gibbs in St. Gregory's Church at Newberry.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goudreau of St. Ignace, son and daughter-in-law of the bride.

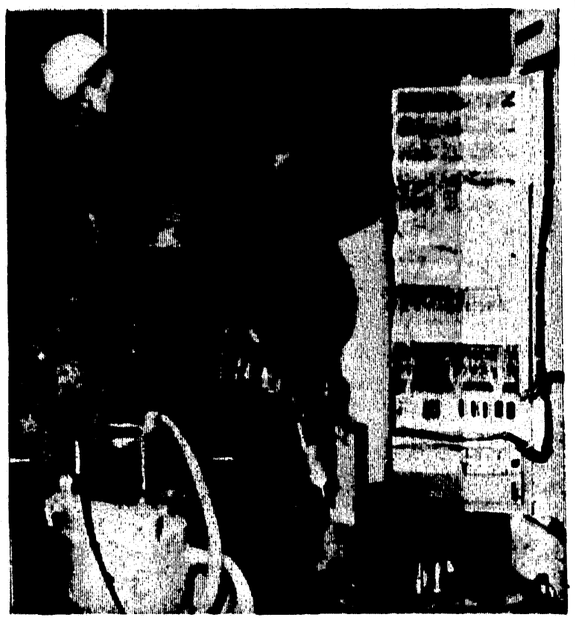
The bride wore a gold colored suit and black accessories and a corsage of white and gold mums. Her matron of honor wore a blue sheath dress with black accessories and a red and white carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Humphrey Sr. of Curtis attended the wedding and dinner served immediately after the ceremony at the Paul Bunyon Restaurant at Newberry.

Mr. Quale is the owner of Quale's Hardware at Germfask.

Vista Volunteers Get Romney OK

Two volunteers will be assigned to the Kewadin Recreation Center, Antrim County, to work in self-help projects.



CONSTRUCTION of the new Lakehead Pipeline Co. pumping station is nearing completion at Manistique and the new electric station soon will be in use. Workmen are shown in final phases of the work.

BY HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Getting the tracks of a shower door clean has always been a big job for me.

When I accidently came across this quick and easy idea, I just had to share it.

Take a cotton ball and stick it down into the track.

With a crew driver or knife, push the cotton ball up and down the track until it is dirty and full of water. Just remove, throw away and repeat process until track is clean. The dirt is usually loose, and it clings like magic to the cotton ball. The shower door then will slide like new.

Dear Heloise:

I served tossed green salad quite frequently.

It seemed I was always left with some soggy lettuce, cucumber and tomatoes floating in dressing. Too much to throw away but not very tasty looking the next time around.

Therefore, we now make our salad only lightly seasoned and serve it without dressing. Everyone then has a choice of adding dressing to his own serving and the leftover salad remains crisp for the next meal.

No gourmet method perhaps, but a saving if the family appetites have been overestimated.

Dear Heloise:

I am unable to do much entertaining, but one of the little things I do for out-of-town guests seems to find great favor.

I always keep a few stamped scenic postcards of our city in my guest room.

Recently, five young ladies from a southern state had dinner with us the evening they arrived here.

It was their first visit to this city and their stay was limited to two days.

I placed six stamped cards, tied with a bit of ribbon, at each dinner plate.

The girls were delighted, since this left them more time to devote to sight-seeing.

Two Ranked Quints Sustain Setbacks; What's Going On?

By The Associated Press

Two of college basketball's Top Ten — make that 11 — were beaten Thursday night, but perhaps the most interesting defeat of the evening involved the University of Kentucky and what on earth is going on down there?

The Wildcats were knocked off in overtime by Vanderbilt, 91-89 and it was the fifth home defeat of the season for Adolph Rupp's charges, who used to be invincible at home.

Also defeated were eighth-ranked Cincinnati, which lost to Tulsa 65-64 in overtime and Bradley, rated in a tie for 10th place in The Associated Press poll, which was beaten by Wichita 83-69.

Top Ten winners were Louisville, 86-66 over North Texas State, Houston, 82-62 over Lamar Tech and Providence, 62-59 over Massachusetts.

Kentucky was rated third in the preseason poll and started as if nothing was amiss, beating Virginia 104-84. But then Illinois knocked the Wildcats off 98-97 in overtime in Lexington and it's been happening ever since.

Over-all, in fact, Kentucky is 2-0 on unfriendly or neutral territory, but has managed just a 3-5 record at home.

Vanderbilt led by as much as 18 points in the first half, paced by Jerry Southwood, but the Wildcats stormed from behind to tie the regulation game at 77-77.

Southwood, who was high for Vanderbilt with 20 points, put the Commodores ahead at 89-87 with one minute left in the overtime but Bob Tallent's long one-hander for Kentucky tied it again. Bo Wyenandt threw in the winning basket, an easy lay-up, with six seconds left.

Louie Dampier topped Kentucky with 30 points.

Eldridge Webb scored six straight points in overtime, breaking Cincinnati's home-court win streak at 20 games.

Bradley led Wichita by five points at halftime, but Warren Armstrong sparked the Shockers to victory with 24 points. Wichita also dominated the boards, hauling in 51 rebounds to Bradley's 38. Bradley is now 9-3.

Cincinnati led through much of the second half, but two free throws by Mike Rolf with nine seconds left in the game, tied the game for Tulsa, now 9-3. Cincinnati, 8-2, has played four overtime games this season, winning the first three.

Louisville's 13th straight victory came before 11,061 hometown fans with Butch Beard scoring 29 points and Westley Unseld adding 22. Unseld also had 19 rebounds.

Houston won its 13th game in 14 starts and 11th in a row with Don Chaney and Elvin Hayes each hitting 16 points. Freshman Phil Endicott led Lamar Tech with 25 points.

Jim Walker, the country's leading scorer, had 29 for Providence, which beat a stubborn Massachusetts squad. The Friars didn't go ahead for good until Walker hit a jump shot from the key with 1:32 left.

In other games, Drake beat St. Louis 69-66, Virginia took NYU 91-84, Canisius won in overtime from Iona 80-71 and Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 76-55.

IT ISN'T all hard work on the football practice field for the Kansas City Chiefs. Vince Claims Starr Is Key In Super Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Lombardi hit it right on the nose last week when he said, "If Bart Starr has a real hot day, we are going to win."

Starr had a four-touchdown sizzler and Lombardi's Green Bay Packers beat Dallas 34-27, turning back the Cowboys with a great goal line stand in the final minutes.

The Super Bowl game in the Los Angeles Coliseum Jan. 15 figures to go the same way. The performances of Starr of the Packers and Len Dawson of the Kansas City Chiefs probably will determine the winner of the first meeting of NFL and AFL champions.

Dawson, 31, is a 10th year pro who spent the first five in the NFL with Pittsburgh and Cleveland. When he was cut by the Browns he contacted Hank Stram, his old backfield coach at Purdue, and joined the Dallas Texans, later to become the Kansas City Chiefs.

While leading the Chiefs to the title, Dawson had one of his better years. He wound up the regular season with 26 touchdown passes and was intercepted only 10 times. Len threw for two more TDs last Sunday against Buffalo in the Chiefs' 31-7 romp.

Starr, in his 11th year as a pro, is 32. A control passer who seldom is intercepted, Starr threw for 14 TDs in regular season and four more in the Dallas game. He has been intercepted only three times all year.

Although it is generally believed that Dawson goes for the long ball in the Chiefs' high-powered attack, while Starr features the short pitch and ball control the statistics do not bear this out.

Of Dawson's '28 TD passes, including the title game, 22 have covered 35 yards or less. The others gained 45, 71, 74 and 89 yards. Otis Taylor took the three long bombs.

Starr, the control artist, has 18, including the Dallas game. Ten have covered more than 35 yards, including an 80-yard gainer to Elijah Pitts and 78- and 83-yard plays to Carroll Dale.

When he is throwing for the touchdown, Dawson is most likely to go to flanker Taylor, a 6-foot-2, 211-pound second year speedster from Prairie View, or Chris Burford, a 6-3, 210-pound split end who runs fine patterns.

Taylor caught eight TD passes from Dawson, Burford seven. Taylor also got one from Pete Beathard and Burford one from halfback Bert Coan.

Split end Dale had five and halfback Pitts four of Starr's 18 TD tosses. Three went to Paul Hornung, who saw little service in the second half of the season due to a pinched nerve in his back but who just might turn out to be a very important factor in the warm California sunshine.

Cooks Clippers On Target With 28 Field Goals

COOKS — Coach Norm Jahn's Cooks Clippers were hitting on all cylinders here Thursday night in a 74-70 Central League victory over Garden.

Cooks zoomed to an 18-4 lead in the first period and was never headed. The Clippers shot at a hot 51 percent from the field, canning 28 of 54 attempts for their best performance of the season. They also tossed in 18 of 25 free throws.

Bill Hartman, a 5 foot 7 inch freshman who joined the varsity squad earlier this week, led three Clippers in double figures with 21 points. Dave Peterson, a 5 foot 5 inch senior, who was making his second starting appearance, came through with 16 points and Neil Hartman added 10 as the Clippers fashioned their fifth victory against three defeats.

Mike Thibault led Garden with 13 points. The setback was the fifth in a row and seventh in nine starts for Coach Dave Pelletier's Jets.

Cooks won the 7-8th grade preliminary, 37-21.

76ers Beaten, Big Bell Hot

By The Associated Press

The big building was cold and the Big Bell was hot.

Star Wilt Chamberlain and Coach Alex Hannum of Philadelphia said after the 76ers lost 112-104 to the New York Knickerbockers Thursday night at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena that the building was cold, but they didn't think it affected their club's play.

It certainly didn't affect the Knicks' Big Bell — center Walt Bellamy who scored 29 points, 10 in the fourth quarter, and helped hold Chamberlain to 13 points.

The loss, the 76ers' first to the Knicks in seven games this season, snapped their winning streak at 11 games. New York, third behind leading Philadelphia and Boston in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, upped its record to .500 at 21-21. Philadelphia is 37-4.

In the only other game, San Francisco downed Los Angeles 122-91 in Oakland, Calif.

San Francisco posted its fifth straight victory over Los Angeles and boosted its Western Division lead to seven games over idle St. Louis.

Nate Thurmond, hitting on eight of his first nine field goal attempts, triggered the Warriors with 24 points and 25 rebounds. Teammate Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer, collected 23 points. Jerry West was high for the Lakers with 21.

San Francisco led practically from the outset and built a 59-44 halftime bulge before pulling away after the intermission.

Matson Seeks Indoor Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Randy Matson aims at the world indoor shot put record Saturday night to put beside his outdoor mark.

Still the 262-pound Texas A&M star doesn't do any predicting.

"I still have some trouble with the indoor shot," he says and points out that circles indoors sometimes vary.

Yet most expect him to eclipse the 64-foot, 11¾ inch mark established by Garry Gubner at New York in 1962. His first 1967 chance comes in the All-American Indoor Games at the Cow Palace.

Sherman Has First Shot At Nation's Top Passers In Tonight's Hula Bowl

By The Associated Press

He won't be involved in professional football's championship showdown, but Allie Sherman will have a super time tonight.

Sherman, coach of the beleaguered New York Giants, is in Honolulu for tonight's Hula Bowl game which matches two of college football's top quarterbacks — Florida's Steve Spurrier and Purdue's Bob Griese.

And the beautiful part is that Sherman reportedly can choose either one for his very own.

The Giants are said to have received an option to choose the first quarterback selected in pro football's draft as part of the American and National League merger agreement.

Faced with the problem of choosing between Spurrier and Griese, Sherman may solve it by selecting neither. "They are undoubtedly the top college quarterbacks of the year," he said. "But we haven't definitely decided on the man we'll go for on our first choice."

If Sherman is interested in a position other than quarterback, the Hula Bowl has other talent on view.

Among the running backs are Syracuse's Floyd Little, Mel Farr of UCLA, and Clint Jones of Michigan State. Lineman include George Webster of Michigan State, Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas and Diron Talbert of Texas.

The possibility that Sherman will go after a position other than quarterback is bolstered by the fact that several NFL clubs have unhappy second string signal callers, who might fill the bill in New York.

Among these is Gary Cuozzo, backup man for Johnny Unitas of Baltimore, and George Mira, San Francisco's No. 2 man. Both have expressed dissatisfaction at their inactivity and have asked to be traded.

Cuozzo will be on the bench Sunday in Miami when the Colts and Philadelphia Eagles battle in the NFL's Playoff Bowl.

Promoters expect a sellout for the Playoff Bowl, which matches second place finishers in the Eastern and Western Conferences. Sales have already passed 40,000, far ahead of the pace for the Super Bowl set for Los Angeles a week from Sunday.

And while Griese and Spurrier battle it out in Honolulu, two other top quarterbacks face each other Saturday in the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala. — both on the field and on the sidelines.

The coaches will be Norm Van Brocklin of Minnesota and Otto Graham of Washington, a pair of pretty good NFL quarterbacks before they became coaches.

Van Brocklin's North team will start Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, who led the nation in total offense.

Graham, coaching the South, will open with Terry Southall of Baylor at the controls.

Howe Scores 700th Goal

DETROIT (AP) — "I like them all," Gordie Howe grinned as he shoved two pucks in his pocket, symbolic of his 699th and 700th National Hockey League goals.

Howe scored two goals, Dean Prentice scored twice and Norm Ullman tallied on a penalty shot as the Detroit Red Wings slammed Chicago 6-4 in the only NHL action Thursday night.

Bobby Hull blasted in two long slap shots from left wing, but they weren't enough for Chicago.

"It was a good game," said the 38-year-old Howe, playing his 21st NHL season. "We all got going. It was a great game."

Howe's goals include both regular-season and playoff goals. He breaks his own record each time he scores.

Prentice popped in his 249th and 250th NHL goals to make him only the 19th player in league history to score 250 goals.

Chiefs' Owner Wants Stadium

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs' owner, Lamar Hunt, is enthusiastic about the 75,000-seat football stadium in a proposed $54 million 2-stadium complex but the position of A's owner Charles O. Finley on a 50,000-seat baseball plan remains unknown.

Hunt has offered to purchase more than $5 million in revenue bonds to help finance the stadium, officials reported. He declined to name a specific figure, explaining:

"The Chiefs could help in various ways, such as purchasing bonds, guaranteeing the bonds, a long-term lease, or a specific contribution. Studies are still under way."

Efforts by The Associated Press to reach Finley were unsuccessful Wednesday. He is a Chicago insurance executive. His office said he was traveling and unreachable. He wasn't expected at his La Porte' Ind., home until the weekend.

Finley several times over the past year declined to make any comment on a proposed multipurpose domed stadium.

Without his commitment to a lease, revenue bonds for a multipurpose stadium couldn't be sold and the project would never get off the ground.

Braves Squad Even Younger

GLADSTONE—Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone basketball squad, already one of the most youthful in the school's history, took on an even younger look this week.

Wood announced that seniors Jim Sargent and Gary Micheau, who had seen only limited action this season have dropped from the sport. It is also doubtful if another senior, Gary Larson, will be playing basketball any more this season because of a knee injury suffered in football.

Wood will bring up Mark Weber, a 5 foot 3 inch sophomore, from the jayvee squad next week. That will give him a varsity unit composed of four sophomores, five juniors and one senior.

Perkins Moves Rock Game Up

PERKINS — Coach Verne Nelson announced today that the home basketball game against Rock Saturday night has been moved up a half hour.

The junior varsity game will begin at 6:15 and the varsity game will start a half hour earlier than usual.

Detroit Papers Report Schmidt New Lion Coach

DETROIT (AP) — Both Detroit newspapers reported Thursday that Detroit Lions' Coach Harry Gilmer had been fired from his National Football League job and would be replaced by assistant Joe Schmidt.

Neither Schmidt, a former star linebacker with the Lions, nor Lions' owner William Clay Ford could be reached for comment.

Gilmer, on a scouting trip in Mobile, Ala., said, "All I know is what a friend told me he saw on television. I certainly haven't had any official word about it."

Both the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press quoted unnamed sources in their report.

He has one year to go on a three-year contract. The Lions won only four games and tied one last season. They lost nine. During Gilmer's two years, the Lions won 10, lost 16 and tied two.

Brown Repeats As Golf Pacer

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Pete Brown, leader in the $22,000 Southern California Open has made a New Year's resolution.

Brown, who shot a six-under par 66 Thursay in the first half of a split first round, led after the first round a year ago but blew to an horrendous 80 in the second round.

Asked if he were going to do better the second time around this year, Brown replied, simply "I'm not going to shoot 80."

The Los Angeles pro dropped five birdie putts, hit two par-5s in two strokes and bogeyed No. 14 to come in with a 31-35 over the par 36-36 course at Los Coyotes Country Club.

Two strokes behind Brown at 68 are Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., and Bob Lunn of San Francisco.

Dick Lytle of San Diego, Calif., shot a 69, while at 70 are defending champion George Bayer of Incline Village, Nev., and Jerry Steelsmith of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Former PGA champion Jerry Barber of Los Angeles came in with a 71, but Dave Hill of Evergreen, Colo., who broke the course record Wednesday with a 65 in the pro-amateur, was well back at 73.

In today's second segment of the opening round, teeing off will be Doug Ford, Walter Burkemo, Bob Rosburg, Charlie Sifford, Al Besselink and Chuck Courtney among the better-known pros.

For Saturday's second round the field of 350 will be cut to the low 120 scorers and ties. The low 60 and ties will play in Sunday's concluding round of the 54-hole event.

Esky Wrestlers Home Saturday

Coach Jim Hirn's Escanaba High School wrestling team will return to action after the holiday vacation with a match against the Peshtigo Bulldogs here Saturday at 2.

The Eskymos have registered three straight victories this season, their second in the sport.

Peshtigo has a veteran team and is expected to provide a stiff test for the Eskymos. The Bulldogs compete regularly against Green Bay area schools, including Coleman, Wisconsin state prep champion.

Leading the Eskymos to their three victories have been three Cornell athletes, Dan Scheuren, Vital VanDrese and Dale Ford. All three have won all their matches by pinning their opponents in the first period.

In addition to the regular matches, there will be several exhibitions which will start at 1:30 Saturday.

Hirn today named the following matmen to see action against Peshtigo.

Watertower Site Chosen For Recreation Building

The Escanaba City Council, following a discussion session with the Recreation Board, moved forward in planning for a new community recreation building by making two important decisions Thursday night:

1—The Council selected the city-owned watertower site as the location for the new recreation building.

2—It named the Escanaba architectural firm of Arntzen & Arntzen to prepare the building plans and cost estimates: One set of plans for a recreation building only, and another plan to include a swimming pool.

The Council's action was taken on the recommendation of the Recreation Board, which answered Council questions Thursday night and urged action in getting the recreation building project started.

Includes Offices

Ray LaPorte, who heads the local Community Action (War on Poverty) Program, appeared before the Council to suggest the inclusion in the recreation building plans of two rooms for use by the CAP. There is the possibility of obtaining a "high priority" for federal funds for the recreation building project. If federal help is approved, the city would be reimbursed for 75 per cent of its cost.

There are no federal funds for swimming pool, however, but federal aid for the recreation building would leave the city with more of its own funds which could be used to help finance a pool.

Escanaba has $285,000 in Catherine Bonifas trust funds which it proposes to use in financing the recreation (and pool) building. The Council serves as trustee of the funds.

Norman Arntzen of Arntzen & Arntzen Architects gave the Council information on the cost of swimming pools being constructed in other communities. Pools approximately 50 by 70 feet with a capacity of 60 persons at one time (together with the buildings to house them) cost from $300,000 to $450,000. The cost of maintaining and supervising a pool is estimated to cost about $20,000 a year.

Cost $354,000

The cost of the proposed Escanaba recreation building (without pool) is estimated by Arntzen at $354,000. The building will contain facilities for recreation for all age groups in the community.

There was discussion among the Councilmen on where the proposed swimming pool should be located, and there were expressions to the effect that it would best serve the community by having it attached to the Escanaba Area High School, where its use could be shared with Holy Name High School.

Kenneth Buckland, member of the Escanaba Area Board of Education, told the group that while the Board of Education would welcome having the pool attached to the Area High School, the school district has no funds to help finance its construction.

The Area School district is now engaged in building three new elementary schools and in enlarging others.

Raise Taxi Fares

In Escanaba the school facilities are used for public recreation, including the gyms in the Webster, Junior and Senior High Schools, and additional use is planned with the cooperation of the school board, said Paul Vardigan, City Recreation director.

In other business the Council:

Approved an agreement with Ben Yagodzinski for a lease of seven acres of city-owned land for the expansion of his industry. The rental is $300 per year and the city may ask the cancellation of the lease on six months notice. Yagodzinski will use the land for storage.

Authorized City Manager George Harvey to have a tractor bulldozer, which is used at the city dump, repaired by the Bark River Equipment Co. at an estimated cost of $3,500.

Approved a request of the Escanaba Taxi Co. for a fare increase. The Council suggested that the Taxi Co. management post the new fares in the cabs and give them publicity. The new fares are reasonable and in line with those in other cities of the Peninsula.

Parking Lot Plan

Approved the request of Lawrence Pavlick, Escanaba businessman, to break curb in the 100 block, Stephenson Ave., where he proposes to construct a new service station.

Granted, subject to police approval, the request of John Hogan for a transfer of ownership of Class C and SDM license from Richard Westfall, and for a transfer of location of license from 1000 1st Ave. N. to 2635 Ludington St.; and granted subject to police approval the request of Leslie Lark for a new SDM license at 123 N. 10th St.

Accepted from the Area PTA Council a letter of appreciation for the Council's cooperation in publicizing a Code for Youth and Parents.

Heard a report from City Manager Harvey on the participation plan for the financing of a public parking lot in the 1100 and 1200 blocks, 1st Ave N., and tentatively set the date of Jan. 26 for a meeting with participating property owners, merchants and all other interested persons.

Parking Lot Aid Offered By Bank

A proposal to establish a public parking lot on the west side of 8th St. between Ludington St. and 1st Ave. S. was made Thursday night to the City Council by Matt Smith, executive vice president of the Escanaba National Bank.

There would be four lots in the proposed parking area, which would serve the Michigan and Delft Theaters, the First Presbyterian Church, St. Joseph's Church, Shopper's Town and other business places in the neighborhood.

"At the present time there are two private parking lots in this area which are being used by the general public even though they are private," Smith told the Council.

The Escanaba National Bank already has parking facilities for about 50 cars located directly behind the bank building. The Bank has also acquired the 50 by 142-foot lot adjacent to the bank building for additional parking and expansion, if necessary, Smith advised the Council.

"We here at the Escanaba National Bank would like to propose that this parking lot be put in and stand ready to donate 25 per cent of the land for such a parking lot in addition to participating in the extra expense, if necessary, the details of such a participating agreement to be worked out later," Smith told the Council.

The proposal was received with expressions of interest by the Council and was taken under advisement.

City Reviews Airport Plan

The City of Escanaba's share in the proposed airport expansion and improvement project will be approximately $250,000 — about $70,000 higher than originally estimated, the Council was advised Thursday night.

Total cost of the project which includes extension of the east-west runway and the construction of a new terminal building is estimated at $750,000. The State of Michigan will contribute $250,000, the City $250,000 and $275,000 will come to the project in a federal grant.

City Manager George Harvey told the Council that $80,000 is budgeted by the city in this fiscal period and an additional $80,000 is to be budgeted in the fiscal year ahead for the project.

Kenneth Buckland of Northern Michigan Engineers Inc., Escanaba, said a complete master plan will be ready for the Council's approval by Jan. 19.

The project timetable goes something like this: The project application must be ready to go to the Federal Aviation Agency by July 1, 1967; the bids for the work to be taken in the winter of 1967-68; construction to begin in the spring of 1968.

The terminal building will be relocated off M 35 at the south end of the east-west runway. Eventually the east-west runway will be relocated to the west where it can be more advantageously lengthened.

Final I 94 Link Still In Dispute

DETROIT (AP) — The longstanding controversy over opening the final six-mile stretch of I 94 expressway in Macomb County may come to a showdown this month.

Three Detroit suburbs — St. Clair Shores, Roseville and East Detroit — oppose opening the section of the road from Eight Mile to Fourteen Mile roads until emergency exits are completed and protective fencing installed.

But Howard Hill, director of the State Highway Department, said Thursday despite protests he would order the northbound lane of the superhighway opened sometime this month. He declined to name a date for the opening, already twice delayed.

Access ramps to the expressway have not been completed. Suburban officials complain this restricts policing the stretch of road and makes it unsafe for traffic.

"We'll open it as soon as it is ready for traffic," said Hill. "It is going to be more difficult to police, but it will alleviate the traffic jam on Eight Mile."

Hill said there are many stretches of expressway in Michigan where there is no access for six miles.

The opening date depends on when work is finished on 175 joints on the road and guard rails and fences are installed. All of this work is subject to weather conditions, he said.

Mayor Roy M. Geer of St. Clair Shores said access ramps should be opened when the road is opened to "protect the people who use it.

"It's fine for the highway department to open the freeway," he added, "but the minute there is an accident, it is the city's fault if emergency vehicles don't get there in time."

The six-mile suburban section is the last link in the 250 mile superhighway running from New Buffalo in southwestern lower Michigan to Port Huron in southeastern Michigan.

Tax Deadline Is Extended In City

The period for the payment of County and School taxes in the City of Escanaba without penalty was extended by the Council Thursday night from Jan. 10 to Feb. 15.

The Council also heard Councilman Chase express concern over "ugly rumors" that some persons receive "tax concessions" in the community.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe pointed out that the city's tax records are open to the public for inspection at any time.

Briefly Told

The Washington PTA will meet Monday, Jan. 9, at 8 p.m. Vern Ihlenfeldt will speak on the federal government sponsor program (school readiness for pre - schoolers). Memberships are still open. Non-members are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club will meet at Marco's at 6:30 p.m. Monday. Participating in the program will be Sherwood Trotter, Dick Powell, George McLaughlin, James Wren, John Lamse and Fr. Tehobold Hathrup.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summonses to Jane A. Piatt, 228 N. 20th St., for improper lane usage; and to Napoleon W. Morin, 415 2nd Ave. S., excessive speed, too fast for conditions.

The theft of two batteries from a tractor and bulldozer at a construction site in Escanaba was reported to the Police Deparement by the Van Ess Co. The theft occurred Thursday night.

Three persons suffered bruises in a three-car accident at 5th Ave. S. and 23rd St. at 7:59 a.m. today, it is reported by Escanaba police. Hurt were Patrick R. Norton, 19, of 1505 Montana Ave., Gladstone, and his two passengers, Milo Austin, 18, and Dennis Livermore, 19, both of Gladstone. The other cars were driven by Patrick H. Mattson, Escanaba Rte. 1, and Clarence J. Kasten, Escanaba Rte. 1. Kasten received a summons for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Judge Says Cross In Oregon Park Must Come Down

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — A 50-foot concrete cross in a city park must be removed, a judge has ruled.

The decision Thursday by William Fort, Lane County circuit judge, ended more than two years of litigation.

Oppponents of the cross on Skinner's Butte, a hill overlooking the city, said it violated constitutional guarantees of separation of church and state.

Fort did not rule on the constitutional question but said the cross violates a city charter by being a religious symbol on public property.

Dr. Judah Bierman, chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union of Oregon, said the decision was a victory for freedom of religion.

Fort said the cross must be removed by the city and Eugene Sand and Gravel Co. within 10 days.

It was the sand and gravel president, John Alltucker, who erected the neon-lighted cross Nov. 26, 1964, setting off the bitter controversy.

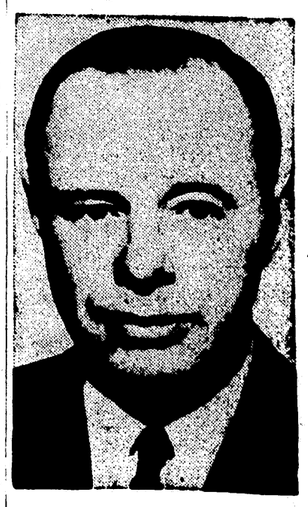
NEW YORK (AP) — The Sloan Foundation has made grants totaling $7.5 million to twenty independent colleges. The foundation said the grants were made to strengthen science teaching to liberal arts students.

Fred M. Alger, Challenger Of Soapy, Passes



Frederick M. Alger Jr.

DETROIT (AP) — Frederick M. Alger Jr., former Michigan secretary of state and scion of one of Michigan's pioneer lumbering families, died Thursday night at his suburban Grosse Pointe home following a short illness. He was 59.

Alger was the son of the late Col. Frederick M. Alger and the grandson of Gen. Russell A. Alger, secretary of war under President McKinley and a former U.S. senator and governor of Michigan.

Alger County in the Upper Peninsula was named for him.

The family's wealth and prominence dates back to the lumbering boom of the 1890s in Canada and Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

One of the first Michigan Republicans to support the candidacy of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1951, Alger lost a bid to unseat former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1952. President Eisenhower appointed him ambassador to Belgium where he served until 1956.

Williams' victory margin over Alger in 1952 was by 8,618 votes, the narrowest of any Williams' victories in his six terms as governor.

Gave Williams Start

Alger helped launch Williams' political career by suggesting the young lawyer's name to the late Gov. Kim Sigler in 1947 for appointment to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Williams was elected to his first term the following year, having used his post to tour the state in drumming up political support.

Alger served as Michigan Secretary of State under Williams from 1947 to 1952, but later had a falling out with the governor over fiscal policy and other matters.

In 1958, Alger termed Williams "a political faker" and an "opportunist."

Served In Navy

During World War II, Alger served more than four years in the Navy, rising to the rank of commander. He spent much of the early part of the war trying to wrangle an overseas assignment, saying: "I'm no desk man." He later was transferred to the Pacific.

In his youth he was a polo player and became known as a racing stable owner. His horse Azucar won the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in 1935.

He was an officer and director of several business firms and made a number of unsuccessful bids for political office before being elected Michigan's Secretary of state in 1946, and serving three two-year terms.

Master Kev Ads Worry To Police

LANSING (AP)—Law enforcement officials are worried that advertisements offering to sell Michigan residents master keys for autos and trucks may lead to an increase in motor vehicle thefts and burglaries, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said here.

Kelley said an out-of-state firm is flooding the state with circulars offering master keys for Ford and Chrysler products at $4 each and General Motors products at $6 each.

In addition, Kelley said a $10 key is advertised as opening doors and ignitions and many trunks of all Big Three auto company products built between 1940 and 1967.

Kelley's office declined to name the firm or the states from which it is operating, but said the states' attorneys general had been contacted and were investigating.

Kelley said a new Michigan law which will take effect March 10 limits possession of such master keys to garage mechanics, parking lot attendants, locksmiths, key manufacturers or persons engaged in the repair or storage of motor vehicles.

Beach Boys Pass Beatles In Britain

The Beatles' own prediction of their "downfall," reported recently, is borne out in Britain's latest musical poll. America's Beach Boys top them in popularity and also shade the rhythm and blues "Rolling Stones." The tide of U.S. music is rolling strongly in the British Isles . . . Elvis Presley holds the rating, again this year, as world's top male singer . . . and Petula Clark ranks as one of the top three girl singers . . . India jazz and pop rhythms are beginning to catch on outside that country's borders . . . especially in the big music towns on both U.S. coasts. One reason is that rhythmic complexity of today's music is tuneful duck soup for fingers trained to strumming strings and vocal chords to caterwauling sounds of classical Indian music. Big name here, Ravi Shankar, is currently hitting U.S. concert stages. Long-haired but less than wild-and-wooly looking, the four "Motions" are Holland's top mop-and-pop group . . . Known for such hits as "Wasted Words" and "Every Step I Take," they're now sweeping outside Holland via tours and record sales . . . so far, mostly in western and North Europe. Meanwhile, back in the U.S.A., a current side put out by Go-Go Records and now jumping into the top 50, is worth plunking down the money for the title alone — "The Eggplant That Ate Chicago." It's whooped out, with sort of a nasally Chicago swing, by the recently formed Dr. West's Medicine Show and Junk Band that performs with a battery of deadly musical weapons — guitar, kazoo, tambourine, washboard, 18-year-old car bumper, Taiwan finger piano and Tibetan temple blocks.

CLUB FOR TEENS IN A ROUGH SPOT: Misty-eyed baloney of middle-agers aside, there are times when it can be rough to be young . . . And one of the times it's real hurting rough is when a family is troubled with an alcoholic adult. Millions of teen-agers can have their lives badly banged up by family drinking problems . . . considering there are eight million alcoholic adults (most of them parents) in the United States. A few years ago, a California boy, 17, up against a stone wall with two alcoholic parents (they encouraged his idea) started Alateen with other teen men and girls caught up in the same struggle. They found out what Alcoholics Anonymous had learned about destructive drinking— that it's a disease (the alcoholic's body can't take alcohol but emotionally he craves it) . . . that alcoholics don't want to hurt their children (they drink more to hurt themselves) . . . and that reacting to them with disgust and hate only spurs them on. Today, there are several hundred Alateen Clubs—for "help," not "fun." Members, aged 12 to 20, often meet at the same places as the AA's . . . pick their own officers . . . conduct their own meetings, but welcome an adult adviser. Not exactly a happiness group. Alateens don't sit around and talk about their troubles and pour sympathy over each other. Their approach is, "How can we understand better?" or "What can we do that will help us and the others involved?" Not feeling so alone with their problems, they work out solutions for such things as—"What does a teen with an alcoholic in the family say to his friends?", "Do I dare invite them to my house?", "How can I keep from getting tied in knots so I can't do my homework?, "What do I do if drinking gets violent?", "Where can I get help?" Hard questions that can overwhelm anyone, but the Alateen clubs (reachable through AA or Al-Anon, listed in the phone book) do a good job of answering them for teen-agers.

PLEASE DON'T EAT THE INK: But you probably already have. This year, the industry announces that the production of edible ink has grown by leaps and bounds. . . . with the blessing of the Federal Food and Drug Administration . . . and a major portion of it consumed by you. Negligible in nourishment and not appealing to your taste buds, you eat it because it's necessary—to stamp trade marks and manufacturers' data on tons and tons of edibles you chomp down, such as candy, drug products, and a raft of fruits, meats, vegetables and other savory foods.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

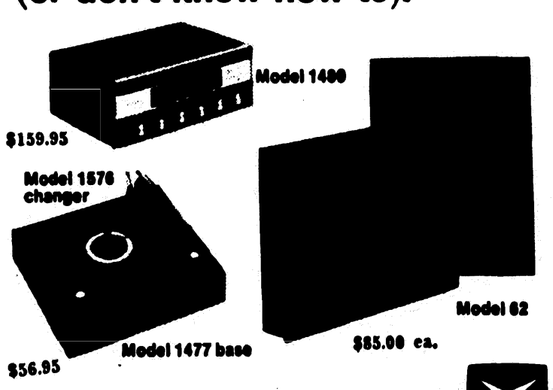
Do-It-Yourself stereo sound system for people who don't want to do it themselves (or don't know how to).



When you buy V-M components. It's mostly all done for you. By experts. Everything is balanced, matched, compatible. Simplified. All you have to do is connect speakers and record changer to a Solid State Tuner and Amplifier. Then just plug it in. Now tune in your AM, FM, or FM Stereo radio. Beautiful. Play some records. Your stereo amplifier has power enough to fill a stadium. The record changer plays any record, any size, any speed, stereo or monaural. And the speakers (hang them up, stand them up, or build them in) are technically perfected and acoustically matched. And guess what? People think you did it yourself.
